

Vice-president and chair of the Accreditation Commission of the ISEKI-Food Association. Graduated and with PhD in Food Engineering, teacher at the Food Science and Technology Department at the Polytechnic of Coimbra and researcher at CERNAS (Research Centre for Natural Resources, Environment and Society). Currently focusing his research on alternative proteins for food, in particular, leguminous plants, insects and seaweeds. Expert for the European Institute of Technology, Chair of the expert reference group of ESCO (European Skills Competences and Occupations) Manufacturing of food, beverages and tobacco and DG Employment and DG Education.